

Remote Learning FAQs

If your child is isolating following public health guidance and therefore not attending school, they must follow their education remotely from home. The details below explain how your child can access their learning online and what support is available. In the event of a local decision to restrict student attendance in order to manage transmission of the virus, extra actions may be taken and additional arrangements for remote education may be put into place. Parents will be informed of these arrangements if extra actions are required.

Question	Remote provision
How frequently will remote work be set and where?	Subject teachers will upload classwork on a weekly basis to Google Classroom.
What type of work will be set?	A combination of pre-recorded video/audio lessons, PowerPoint presentations and worksheets, online retrieval tests, links to articles/videos for pre-reading or research, practical tasks for non-core subjects.
How will I know the topics my child is learning?	Curriculum maps are available on the Curriculum tab on our website. These have been updated for Autumn 2021 and will be available in September.
How will lessons be delivered?	All will be uploaded online either as pre-recorded videos, documents or links on Google Classroom.
Will there be work to complete on paper?	Hard copies will only be provided if you do not have access to a laptop or tablet at home, or have a specific special educational need.
What do I do if we do not have a laptop or appropriate technology?	Students/parents can request work on paper and this will be posted home. If you would like to request access to a laptop for home use, please email info@glossopdale.school .
How will my child submit their work?	Online via Google Classroom or other online testing platforms. Hard copies of work can be dropped off by parents/carers.
How will my child receive feedback on their work?	Online tools eg. Google Forms, comments. Hard copies should be returned to the class teacher when your child returns to school.
How will I know if they have been completing work and of the quality?	Staff will award THRIVE points while your child is at home. Behaviour points for not completing work at home will be issued a week after the child's return to school, allowing time for the class teacher to discuss with the student.
How will my child's wellbeing be monitored?	Parents should liaise with the student's Year Manager or Year Leader to discuss any concerns that they have. Contact details can be found here: https://www.glossopdale.derbyshire.sch.uk/Contact-Us/ Wellbeing materials can be found on our website here: https://www.glossopdale.derbyshire.sch.uk/Students/Mental-Health-Support/

How can parents and students ask questions about the work?	Contact class teacher via Google Classroom. Email: info@glossopdale.school
My child has SEND, will they receive additional support or scaffolded work?	Class teachers are responsible for setting appropriate work for the students in their class and will set work to match their capabilities. The family of every SEND student will receive a telephone call to ensure that the student is able to access the work.
